

Uncharted Wreck

John Collins, USCGAux SBOS ADSO-PE

While surveying the Neptune natural gas pipeline, the survey vessel SHEARWATER found a previously uncharted wreck approximately 7 nautical miles northeast of Marblehead Neck, MA, in position 42-31-24.495N and 070-41-49.468W, in 42.9 meters (140 feet) of water. You are advised to avoid anchoring and maintain caution while operating in the area. In fact, you should avoid anchoring anywhere near the pipeline.

