Subj: Report for JUN Meeting

Later this month an online training session will be held to review current policies and practices which govern presentation of the Auxiliary Search Coordination and Execution (AUXSC&E) class. The date for this session has not yet been set but is expected to be in the second half of the month.

The AUXSC&E course is an offshoot from the National Search and Rescue School – it is regulated by the USCG and the final exam is reviewed and graded by SAR School personnel.

A fall 2016 class is being formulated and details will be made available to all flotillas ASAP.

Very respectfully,

Paul Dowty
